Bobcat "B" Team to Meet Blevins at 7:45 Tuesday

Game to Be Played Under Lights at Hammons
Stadium

ADMISSION IS SMALL

First-String Squad Prepares for Battle With Hot Springs

The Hope High School second-string football team will battle the Blevins Hornets under the lights of Hammons stadium here at 7:45 o'clock Tuesday.

The admission will be 5 and 25 cents. At least four men on the second-string squad are slated for regular positions on the Bobcat squad next season. They will be seen in action against Blevins. Fans may expect a hard-fought game Tuesday night, if the result of a previous game is any indication of the strength of the two squads. About a month ago the "B" team was defeated by Blevins, 13 to 6.

The "B" team also has played Texarkana, Texas, second-stringers this year, breaking even in the series.

The first-string squad went about preparations for its invasion of Hot Springs Friday night. Coach Hammons sent the squad through a tough scrimmage Monday afternoon.

He lined up the first team against the "B" team and had a practice game with score resulting in favor of the "B" team.

With Taylor, playing on the "B" team and carrying the ball, he ripped through and around the regulars, scoring five touchdowns himself.

The "B" team used Hot Springs formations against the regulars.

A large delegation of Blevins fans are expected to be on hand here Tuesday night. The record of the Blevins team was not available, their lineup, nor weights.

Union Contract at Hope Brick Plant

A. F. of L. Contract at Local Industry Ends Labor Dispute

The first labor contract between an individual industry in this section and its employees was drafted and signed Monday between the United Brick & Clay Workers (A. F. of L.) and the Hope Brick company.

Negotiations were started some time ago when Local Union 699 of the United Brick & Clay Workers called in Frank Kiger, international vice-president and general organizer to assist them.

The negotiation committee was composed of N. P. O'Neal, Earl O'Neal and Norris O'Neal, for the Hope Brick company, and Frank Kiger, national union official, Willard Anderson, Tom Huckabee, Frank Brazill, negro, and Willie Boozier, negro.

Practically all recent labor disputes concerning the Hope Brick company were settled.

The first conference Monday was at 9 a. m., which finally adjourned at around 10:45 p. m.

Union officials said that all brick plants in this immediate territory with the exception of a small plant at Atlanta, Texas, are under union contracts, namely Acme Brick Co., Malvern, Ark.; Hope Brick Works; Waterman Brick and Tile, Waskom, Texas; Marshall Brick company, Marshall, Texas.

Little Rock—(P)—Attorney General Jack Holt held Tuesday that constitutional amendment No. 24 transferring probate matters from the county to the chancery courts becomes effective next January 1.

The electorate approved the amendment at last week's general election. The measure contained a section providing it would become effective the first day of January after its adoption.

In another opinion, Holt held the Civil Service Commission had full authority to investigate the discharge of state employees.

France, Nazis to Sign Peace Pact

Basis Reached for Pact
Pledging Them to Refrain From War

PARIS, France.—(P)—A French government spokesman announced Tuesday that a basis had been reached between France and Germany regarding a peace pact which would pledge them to refrain from war against each other, and it was hinted that it would not be long before it came into effect.

The spokesman said the contemplated pact would constitute an important step in the development of the Munich accord, and would extend the principle of a peaceful solution for international problems.

Roosevelt Sends Peace Plea to CIO

Chairman Lewis Leaves
Way Open to Peace
With the AFL

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—(P)—Delegates to the first CIO convention adopted unanimously Tuesday the "peace" committee's report declaring there could be no compromise in the CIO's terms for peace with the American Federation of Labor.

The report, drafted swiftly after President Roosevelt's plea for peace between the rival craft and industrial unions, approved the principle of labor unity, but declared any settlement must recognize CIO's aim of organizing the workers in industrial unions.

Roosevelt's Message
PITTSBURGH, Pa.—(P)—The Committee for Industrial Organization (CIO) summoned its peace committee Monday night into consultation in the wake of President Roosevelt's renewed plea for peace and unity within labor's ranks.

Seeking an end to the warfare between the C. I. O. and American Federation of Labor, Mr. Roosevelt in a letter called upon the first C. I. O. constitutional convention to leave open "every possible door to access to peace and progress in the affairs of organized labor in the United States."

Chairman John L. Lewis said the letter would be given "earnest and profound consideration." One high official of the C. I. O. who refused to be quoted, said the peace committee would recommend some definite course.

The chief executive's message was substantially the same as that sent to the A. F. of L. convention in Houston.

Travel Film to Be Shown Thursday

"Mediterranean Borderlands to Be Presented
Baptist Church

Plans are going forward for the presentation of the motion picture travelogue, "Mediterranean Borderlands," at First Baptist church Thursday night at 8 o'clock, the Rev. W. R. Hamilton announced Friday.

Members of all churches in Hope and Hempstead county, and persons who are not members of any church, are expected to see these pictures. Many out-of-town people have indicated that they will drive to Hope Thursday night for the showing of "Mediterranean Borderlands."

This travel film was photographed and prepared by Rev. W. R. Hamilton. It pictures the narrow crooked streets of Algiers, the frowning aspects of the volcanic mountains of Vesuvius and Stromboli, with "close-ups" of the smoking peak of Vesuvius taken from within the crater. Ruins of ancient Rome and Athens are shown, with intimate studies of the Parthenon. A trip through the Dardanelles to Istanbul (Constantinople), Turkey, is followed by a visit to Joppa in Palestine. The pictorial journey closes with a reel presenting the ancient and modern wonders of Egypt.

Thrilling incidents, dreamy and beautiful scenes of beauty, and places of historical interest combine to make the program one of rare interest and enjoyment to people of all classes. The countries included in the trip, all of which will be described by Mr. Hamilton in the rapid-fire lecture which accompanies the picture, are: the Azores, Portugal, Algeria, Italy, Sicily, Greece, Turkey, Palestine and Egypt.

In short, the program takes one from his seat in America for a restful cruise across the Atlantic, through four seas, visiting ten countries in three continents—all this without the bother of passports, customs inspections, tips and beggars, or the danger of becoming sea-sick or home-sick.

Leo Robins a Star Grid Performer 25 Years Ago at L.R.

Twenty-five years ago this Tuesday, the Little Rock High School football team defeated Pine Bluff, 6 to 0, in which game Leo Robins, of Hope, was one of the outstanding performers for Little Rock.

An item Tuesday in the Arkansas Gazette's 25-year-ago column tells about Robins and the Little Rock victory.

Coach Wingo was the Little Rock Mentor at the time, Robins' position was left end. He later was selected as an all-state man, receiving more votes than any other high school player in the state.

Just two weeks before this game, Little Rock played Hot Springs and defeated the "Trojans" by 13 touchdowns, nine of them being made by Robins.

One of Robins' most-cherished possessions is a headline in the Arkansas Gazette which reads: "Robins Proves Too Much for Hot Springs."

The Little Rock team of 25 years ago went on to win the state championship title, Robins again starring in the Thanksgiving day game against Fort Smith in knee-deep mud.

CHICAGO.—(P)—More than 70 companies, officials of two labor unions, and four Chicago city officials were named Tuesday in two federal indictments charging violation of the anti-trust laws in the milk and ice cream industries.

The indictments, returned November 1 after a 16-weeks grand jury investigation, had been suppressed at the government's request.

One indictment, charging anti-trust violations in the sale of fluid milk in the Chicago area, named 13 firms and 53 individuals.

The other, alleging illegal combination and conspiracy in the ice cream field, listed 21 individuals and two firms.

U. S., British May Seek Refuge for Them in America

CALL ENVOY HOME

U. S. Ambassador Wilson
Recalled From Berlin
for Consultation

LONDON, Eng.—(P)—The British government Tuesday gave urgent consideration to a bold scheme "under which the United States and the British empire would find homes for thousands of German Jews seeking refuge from violence and restrictive laws in Germany."

United States Ambassador Kennedy was believed to be the author of the plan. It was reported on the highest authority that Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax had agreed to co-operate in the proposed program which would move Jews by the tens of thousands into the British empire and North and South America.

By the Associated Press
War, fear of war, and the tragic plight of the Jews in Germany troubled the world Tuesday.

The drastic drive against the Jews was said by Washington political quarters to be the cause for United States Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson's hurried trip home from his Berlin post. At Berlin, Wilson said he was leaving Wednesday for Washington, canceling a previously announced London visit.

German newspapers severely criticized British "cruelities in the administration of colonies, particularly the administration of the Palestine mandate. The press drive was seen as the Nazi answer to the British against the treatment of Jews in Germany.

In Britain, Prime Minister Chamberlain faced increasing signs of dissent within the Conservative party on the issues of German colonial ambitions and rearmament.

In Spain, the government reported gains on the Segre front.

The insurgents said they had made advances on the Ebro front.

U. S. Envoy Recalled

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The United States government, aroused by the sweeping measures taken against Jews by German Nazis, called its ambassador home Monday night for "report and consultation." The move was intended to convey to the Reich's leaders that Washington strongly disapproves their treatment meted out to minorities in Germany.

The ambassador, Hugh R. Wilson, was directed to start home at once. Much significance was attached to the move, since it is one taken only in cases of outstanding importance. The step doesn't, however, mean a break in diplomatic relations.

Wilson will confer with President Roosevelt and also with Secretary of State Hull, provided Hull has not left for the Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru. The date of Hull's departure has been moved up one day from Saturday to Friday of next week.

The treatment of Jews, including American Jews, in Germany will form only one topic of consultation. Many problems are outstanding between the two countries.

Americans Suffer

Unofficial reports have reached the State Department that property of American Jews has suffered in the current anti-Semitic campaign. No protest has yet been made in Berlin on this score.

The last United States protest to Germany regarding Jews was made May 9, objecting to the German decree requiring registration of the property of all Jews, German or foreign. The registration was openly declared to be a prelude to confiscation of the property. The government entered "emphatic protest" against its application to American citizens. Germany replied on June 24 that it would waive application of the registration procedure.

The Family Doctor

T. M. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Modern Medical Science Extends Average Duration of Life

The will to live is deeply rooted in all mankind. From the beginning of time man has sought not increasing years, but increasing years of usefulness. One of our leading biologists, Dr. Raymond Pearl of Johns Hopkins, indicates that until we are 20 years old we do not pay much attention as long live, but after that age we begin to think what we can do to preserve our health and to realize the 70 years of age which is the life cycle of man.

Apparently the older we get the more anxious we are to keep on living. Just a few days ago a man who had reached the age of 87 wrote, asking a lot of questions because he wanted to be certain to reach the age of 90. With the development of modern medicine great help has come to enable most human beings to reach at least 60 years of age. This help, however, is chiefly in the earlier years of life. In 1890 only 72 per cent of boy babies reached 10 years of age; now 91 per cent reach 10 years of age. In 1890, 600 out of every 10,000 white males who had reached 70 years of age managed to live to the age of 90. Now only 583 out of every 10,000 white males who have reached the age of 70 live to reach 90. Moreover, there is no evidence at all that their life cycle of man has been extended and there does not seem to be any likelihood that it will be in the near future. All that has been changed is the average duration of life.

Frequently I have pointed out in these columns that the people who live long are those who come from parents and grandparents who have lived long. The sons of fathers who did not live long may reasonably expect to live a shorter period of time than the sons of fathers who did live long. This factor becomes operative more particularly after the age of 60. Thus at the age of 60 the sons of fathers who lived to be 80 have a life expectancy that is 40 per cent greater than that of the sons of fathers who died before the age of 50.

In his consideration of the subject Dr. Raymond Pearl has made a special study of the relationship of the use of alcoholic beverages to long life. Everybody knows the anecdotes of the old men who lived long and were persistent liquor drinkers and of the old men who lived long and never drank a drop of alcohol. His statement is sometimes made that the latter did not live longer but that it only seemed longer. Nevertheless, the exact scientific study of this question leads to the general conclusion that moderate drinking does not significantly shorten life, but that heavy drinking does seriously diminish the length of life.

Investigations also showed quite conclusively that after the age of 40 to 45 a man will shorten his life by heavy physical labor.

Threat of Bombing Cities Is Ace Card of Dictators

Word from overseas has it that the British government hopes for an international agreement to ban the bombing of civilians in wartime. Negotiations for a four-power treaty to that effect are to begin shortly. It is said, with Germany, Italy, France and England as the interested parties.

An agreement like that would be very nice, if it could just be signed and lived up to. Yet one does not need to be an incurable cynic to suspect that such an agreement is the one thing which the Fascist powers will not grant.

It is common knowledge that the democracies knuckled under to the dictators at Munich because they were scared to death of what the German and Italian air forces might do to them. England still has the world's greatest navy, an dthe French army—despite all that has been said about German rearmament—is still as strong as any in Europe, if not stronger. Yet because they were outclassed in the air, England and France caved in.

And that fact carries its own moral.

While military experts are not yet unanimous about the role of air power in modern warfare, it is pretty generally agreed that—from a strictly military point of view—airplanes cannot win a war, in the old sense, by themselves. They cannot seize and hold territory. They cannot destroy armies. The final decision still belongs to the man on the ground.

So the democracies were not threatened with military defeat, in the old style, at Munich. What they were threatened with was something very different—and infinitely worse: destruction of their great cities, the death of many thousands of women and children, a disorganization of civil life on a terrible scale.

It was this threat that compelled them to back down. They could have won the war, but they could not have won it without suffering losses too frightful to contemplate.

Another words, the threat of bombing civilians was the ace card held by the Fascists. It was the one card which the democracies could not match. Without it, Hitler could not for one minute have overruled his rivals.

It is clear, then, that any international agreement to outlaw the bombing of civilians would (if entered into sincerely and lived up to on all sides) deprive the dictator states of the one big advantage which has enabled them to get their own way.

Does anyone suppose that Hitler and Mussolini would agree to any such thing?

The world today needs few things more desperately than it needs an end to this threat of raining death on defenseless civilians. But to expect those who profit by the use of that threat to give it up meekly and without protest is like expecting the lion and the lamb to lie down together in perfect friendship.

Old Houses Have Secrets

Old houses, like old gentlefolk, are shy. For shabbiness and quaint, old-fashioned ways. Mark them the relics of those other days. Before men worshipped speed's efficiency. They seem to sit apart, to draw aside from life's insistent urge. In musty deep. They dream; and tender rendezvous they keep. With all the treasured memories they hide. A footstep... whispers... scent of rare perfumes... An old love song... faint rustle of a gowning cry... gay laughter drifting down... These are the substance of long-lived-in rooms. Old houses, like old hearts, are loath to tell. Dear secrets they have hidden long and well.—Selected.

with the union of drama with music, beginning in the 16th century; Monteverdi being the first extensive prober into the possibilities of this new form, his harmonies being fresh and beautiful, this new idea was later carried to Germany, France and England. During the 18th and 19th centuries, the idea became very popular and was carried on until the most popular opera composers, Richard Wagner came on the scene. Wagner was considered the great reformer of opera. Mrs. Robert Campbell presented two phonograph records demonstrating opera, Massenet's "Meditation from Thais" and "Lago's Creed from Otello" by Verdi. Mrs. Hendrix Spraggins and Miss Harriett Story played Wagner's "Song to the Evening Star" as a piano duet.

Hallowe'en Carnival Is Held by Ozan Women

Members of the Ozan Methodist Women's Missionary Society sponsored a Hallowe'en carnival, Saturday night, in the vacant store building owned by L. J. Robins. Hot chili was sold throughout the evening. The House of Horrors, the Witch, and the Spirit's Fish Pond almost convinced some that ghosts really do visit their friends and enemies on Hallow Eve. Jolly jack-o-lanterns lighted the building with their ghostly, candle light, smiles. Black cats, owls, and witches were in the air. These and the popery odors of steaming chili made a fitting atmosphere for the occasion.

Pitcher of Ice Water Poured on Defendant in Usual Sentence

BERKELEY, Calif.—(AP)—The court bailiff poured a pitcher of ice water down the neck of the defendant. Spectators gasped and their teeth chattered. The bailiff reached for another pitcher, and another quart of cold water splashed down the shoulders and around the ribs of the man. This was an unusual courtroom sentence carried out Monday on Gustav Berndt, 44, husky founder worker. Berndt was accused of pouring two pitchers of ice water down the neck of his wife, Charlotte Berndt. Police Judge Oliver Youngs, decreed identical judgment would fit the case, and named Bailiff Charles Martin to execute sentence immediately. He did.

He declared that the Hitler regime "revives the worst forms of medievalism and manifests some of the characteristics of the ancient Huns and barbarians."

"The treatment by the Nazi government of the Jews in Austria and Germany," he continued, "can scarcely be paralleled for brutality and fiendishness by primitive peoples in the darkest periods of the world's history. "While 30 governments, including our own, look on in silence at the tragic conditions in Germany, I regret that they did not submit, individually and collectively, protests to the Nazi government against its indefensible and wicked treatment of hundreds of thousands of German and Austrian citizens. They were warranted in advising the Nazi government that a continuation of its persecution of the Jews would call for a severance of all diplomatic relations with it."

DEEP RIVER

Arranged by Harry T. Burleigh

GRANDSON of a blind Maryland slave, Harry first saw light in Erie, Pa. His mother's college degree got her a school job, as janitress.

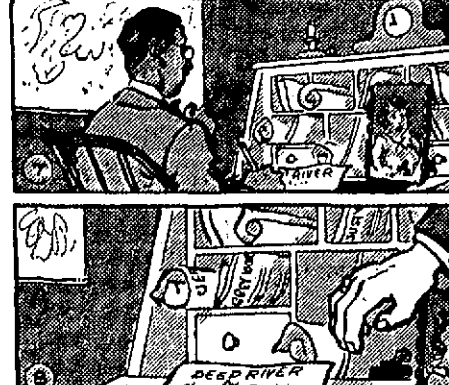

He has been in St. George's ever since, was also for 25 years in Temple Emanuel choir and sang for European royalty including King Edward the Seventh.

BIRTH OF A SONG

The young Burleigh worked as a lamplighter, deck steward and other such jobs. He had a fine voice and a good memory for the plantation songs his mother sang.

The songs of his race cried out for recognition and Burleigh, remembering from his mother, wrote them down in modern arrangements.

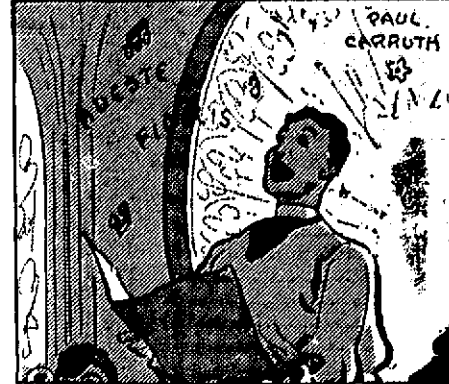

He sang so well in Erie churches that friends sent him to New York for a try at the Thurgood Scholarship. Composer MacDowell's mother helped Burleigh make the grade.

George Maxwell, then President of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, urged Burleigh to publish these arrangements as well as his original compositions.

From ASCAP Files

Dvorak learned "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" from Burleigh and it found a place in the second theme of the first movement of his New World Symphony. Harry meanwhile joined the choir of St. George's Church.

"Deep River" has taken its place as an American classic and with Burleigh's other works earned him membership in ASCAP, which licenses their public performances for profit.

"National Defense" Becomes a Good Excuse for Extra Loans

Federal Loans Expected to Rescue Public Utilities From Bad Repute Brought on by Financial Collapse of Samuel Insull

WASHINGTON—A back-stage analysis of the arrangement by which the public utilities are to get something near two billion dollars of government money in the next two years discloses that national defense is far from the sole purpose of the outlay, although an important one.

At various times during the depression "low" it was estimated that if the utilities could get credit they could start a building boom of their own by putting up new transmission and distribution lines and installing new generating equipment.

Because of the bad odor surrounding utilities investments due to the Insull debacle and a mass of adverse publicity connected with TVA and the Utility Holding Company act, utilities have not been able to get adequate credit. For years the utilities have fallen behind in their spending for expansion and betterment. Just how long and how much is speculative, but a competent government source has compiled figures indicating these things:

Normal annual spending by the utilities in the mid "twenties" for plant betterment and expansion was about $500,000,000 a year.

From 1928 through 1933 the utilities speeded up expansion at times pouring out $700,000,000 a year.

This was above the average requirement and left the industry perhaps "overbuilt" so that during the next two or three years the utilities had to spend only $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 a year for plant betterment in order to keep even.

A Government Build-Up By 1935 the demand for power had about caught up with the expansion but instead of resuming the half billion dollar average, the companies could make up only $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 a year. As a result, they fell behind a corresponding amount in 1936, 1937 and 1938.

Now, with the government supplying the credit, they will be able to take up this slack of $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 a year for three years with a total outlay of close to a billion. Then the average half-billion dollar requirements each year for 1939 and 1940 could take up another billion.

That is a rough outline of the "why" in regard to the two billion.

The bulk of the building is to be in the so-called "bottle-neck" of the heavy industries. That is the industrial quadrangle bound by Massachusetts on the New England corner, and Chicago, St. Louis and Birmingham, Ala., as other corners.

Then, if Trouble Comes The money will be used to install new generating equipment in private plants. It also will build interconnecting units between industrial zones so that if one source of power is cut off (perhaps by bombs or sabotage), an important industrial line can be kept going with power from another zone.

Equally important, it will give power companies the money they have been unable to get elsewhere for the very sort of plant expansion they would have carried on if public confidence had not been jarred.

Special note: It will be well to watch if the "needs of national defense" do not also arise to justify a large loan to railroads for equipment—as a means also of easing the present wage controversy.

Swim With Safety Is Object Of Red Cross Training

Girls in swimming class learn prone pressure method of resuscitation of victim of drowning.

EVERY year shows increasing thousands of people engaging in water sports, flocking to beaches and pools, and to unprotected swimming holes while picnicking and camping. Yet deaths by drowning have shown a steady decline in the past 25 years, until from a former annual death toll of 12,000 persons, now only an average of 7,000 persons needlessly surrender their lives while at play in the water. The American Red Cross, which has led in water safety instruction and life saving in the nation for 25 years, attributes this encouraging decline to increased knowledge of safety rules in swimming, the widespread knowledge of resuscitation of the drowning person, and increased protection of the tyro swimmer at beach and pool. Red Cross chapters throughout the nation sponsor training of life savers, and 32,000 persons were trained in this vital knowledge during the past year. The instruction by the Red Cross not only water-proofs the individual swimmer, but it teaches him how he can, with greatest safety to himself, be most helpful in saving the life of a person in distress.

In New York

By George Ross

NEW YORK—Orson Wells' recent radio report of an invasion from Mars has launched a boom in the horror market.

Hawkers have bought up large stocks of cheap editions of the more fantastic works by H. G. Wells and are selling them in the open here. We heard one of all fresco salesmen hawking the other night, "Read all about them, the men of Mars—take home a copy!"

Only the literal-minded have clung to the tomes by Wells. Other street fakirs have bought the advice of bibliophiles and have found out that Jules Verne had a pretty vivid imagination and there has been a run on him, too. And the public is buying and reading these fantastic this week with more zest than when they were originally brought out.

Movie exhibitors, too, have seen an immediate advantage in yanking out the old films with planetary casts of characters. The morning after the spurious "disaster," one enterprising theater owner in Brooklyn put in a call for the picture made out of H. G. Wells' "Things to Come." A demand was heard at the Film Exchange for "King Kong," that memorable shiver-picture in which a gorilla, taller than many Manhattan buildings, came to pay New York a visit. And there may be a connection between the "catastrophe" in Grocers Mill, N. J., and the decision of the manager of the Rialto to hold his double bill of "Dracula" and "Frankenstein" an extra week, instead of following his original schedule and replacing them.

The climax, of course, comes from Hollywood. For a studio out there has announced that it will be able to give the country very shortly a picture entitled "Mars Attacks the World!"

Arkansan Rated as All-American

Lucien (Pete) Powell Is Outstanding End on Navy Team

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—(AP)—Lucien C. (Pete) Powell, blond Adonis from Forrester, Ark., is Navy Coach Hank Hardwick's personal choice for all-American honors.

The varsity captain, 180 pounds of superlative end, has played outstanding football through the year against all opponents, Hardwick said, and his performance against Columbia Saturday should clinch his right to all-American consideration. Powell, a third-year veteran on the Navy varsity, came to the academy from Groveton High School, Forrester.

"The boy has everything," Hardwick, himself a former Navy end, declared. "He's a great team leader. He's durable and can go for 60 minutes in any ball game. He is one of the best pass receivers on the East coast, and he's a sweet runner in a broken field after he makes a catch. Powell is a fine blocker and mauler on defense."

"Pete's done everything on a football field except lead the yells. What more do you have to do to be an all-American?" Hardwick demanded.

Notre Dame Given Top Grid Rating

Texas Christian Team Rates Second, Tennessee Third

NEW YORK.—(P)—The mightiest Notre Dame football team since the days of the late Knute Rockne took over national leadership in the fifth Associated Press poll of sports writers, Tuesday.

The Irish, who scored their seventh major victory Saturday, rolled up a total of 837 points to lead Texas Christian, the first team a week ago, by 101 points. Sixty of the 92 sports writers who participated in the poll named Notre Dame as their No. 1 eleven.

The rise of the Irish from second to first place was accompanied by other upheavals of lesser note. Tennessee, paladin of the Southeastern Conference moved from fourth to third, and Duke, triumphant over Syracuse in its Northern invasion, rose from seventh to fourth. Unbeaten Oklahoma, class of the corn country, jumped from tenth to seventh and Cornell, which trimmed Dartmouth, made the polls, biggest gain, a spurt from 20th to eighth.

At Sixteen, Liberty Is Very Sweet

"Where were you Jack? It's almost six o'clock and I have been terribly worried about you."

"I went to practice."

"But that only takes an hour. What did you do after that?"

"Oh, Les and I walked home with Alma. She had her books and violin to carry."

"Well, Lester lives near her, doesn't he? Why did you have to go, too? You might come home and see if I had anything for you to do?"

"I didn't think there was anything mother. What was it you wanted me for?"

"That book has to go back to Aunt Gertrude. I told her I'd send it back today."

"O.K. I'll take it after dinner."

"No, you won't. When you get out of the house you stay out. You'd be coming in at all hours to study. No wonder I can't get you up in the morning. I wish, Jack, that you would take a little more interest in me and the home. All you seem to think of is to hang around your friends. Why don't you ask the boys to come here sometimes."

"Because," began the boy quickly then stopped. "Oh well, I will sometime."

Sees It as Nagging

He was thinking. "When the fellows come here, mother won't let us alone. She is always suggesting things to do. 'Why don't you get Lester to show you how he stippled the paint that way he does on his mother's floor.' 'Get those old letters your grandfather wrote from China, and read them to him.' 'You boys could practice on your flutes for the concert. I'd love to hear you.'"

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crane have returned from a short visit with relatives in Shreveport, La.

Mrs. Ben Goodlett and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Matthews attended the Louisiana State Fair at Shreveport, last week. While they were in the city, they visited Mrs. Goodlett's sister, Mrs. Elector Roberts, and other relatives.

Miss Frances Gist, formerly of Ozan, is in nurse's training in Shreveport.

E. Haselman and Walter Baber left Sunday for Hot Springs where they will spend the week.

Several from Washington and McCaskill attended the Dick Huddleston program presented at the Ozan school building, Monday night.

The Rev. G. W. Robinson was a visitor in Ozan, Monday and Tuesday.

The Ozan blacksmith shop, formerly operated by E. M. Cook, is now being operated by Bill Thornton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. City, who have been making their home in Ozan since early summer, have moved to Nashville, where Mr. City will serve as an undertaker in the Latimer Funeral company.

Reddies, Tigers to Renew Grid Battle

Old Feud Is Expected to Attract Big Crowd Friday

ARKADELPHIA, Ark.—When Arkadelphia's intra-city college football rivals, Henderson and Ouachita, meet in their annual game here Friday, each will be trying to forge ahead in the series of games which began in 1907.

Each has won 12, with two ties. The largest score was Ouachita's 66 to 0 in 1919. The smallest score was the

Here's Proof That It Pays to Be Clean

PARADISE, La.—(P)—Mrs. Margaret G. Smith treats her pigs like a bunch of duds and never lets them wallow in the mud. She says there is money in the idea.

Her 840-acre hog farm is planted in Bermuda grass and white clover. The pigs are vaccinated against contagious disease and given an oil shampoo to discourage parasites and mosquitoes, every three months.

The pens have concrete floors with plenty of drinking water. To feed the pigs admitted yen for wallowing, even the rain puddles are carefully swept away.

The reason for all the cleanliness,

Galento Whips Thomas in Third Round of Fight

PHILADELPHIA.—(P)—Tony Galento flattened Harry Thomas in three rounds Monday night. The Orange (N. J.) tavern proprietor weighed 236. Thomas 198½.

Before a crowd of 12,000, which booed the finish, Galento dropped the ex-horseshoer from Eagle Bend, Minn., four times in the third round, twice with punches that barely landed. When Thomas sank to the canvas a fifth time—on this occasion before Tony could rush in at him—Referee Tommy O'Keefe called a halt at two minutes 12 seconds of the session.

From what Galento showed Monday night, the customers were more or less convinced the heavy-weight championship laurels of Joe Louis are safe for a while.

PRINCE ALBERT THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

By CAROL DAY

In velveteen or taffeta, with dainty lace at the neck and sleeves and without the trimming bands, this little design, Pattern 8346, will be a party frock that's pretty as a picture.

In wool crepe, challis, plaid wool or sturdy school cottons, with the bright touch of braid, it will be a comfortable and most becoming school dress.

Anyhow you take it, or make it, this is the kind of dress in which girls 8 to 14 look and feel their best. The waistline is so nice and small, the skirt has a saucy flare, and the high, irregular neckline is new and smart.

The bloused waist and puff sleeves are very kind to fast-growing girls whose width fails to keep up, proportionately, with their height. For little dark girls, have it in dark red; for little fair girls, in sapphire blue.

Pattern 8346 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 10 requires 2½ yards of 38-inch material, 4 yards of braid or ribbon.

Cotton Exports to Chile on Increase

September Shipments Show Gain Over Same Month Year Ago

Exports of American cotton to Chile amounted to 1481 bales in September, which is nearly twice the amount exported in August and considerably larger than the amount exported to Chile a year ago.

This continues the trend in Chile toward an increasingly large consumption of American cotton. For the year ended July 31, 1938, Chile purchased 11,510 bales of American cotton valued at $1,025,000 as compared with 5,202 bales in the corresponding period of the previous year.

Grows Lots of Wool

YASS, Australia.—(P)—A pet sheep known as "McGinty" has produced 28½ pounds of wool in the Yass River District, for the second year in succession. This is believed here to be a world record.

Mrs. Smith, is that buyers believe fifth communicates an undesirable flavor to the meat.

Buyers recently gave her a premium of a quarter of a cent a pound on her pigs and saved her about another cent per pound on transportation, inspection, weighing, feed and sales commissions.

Europe Sees Japan Provoking Us Into Next General War

Symbolic of the German-Japanese alliance that may drag the United States into a future World War is this picture of seamen of the two countries frating aboard the Japanese cruiser "Ashlgan" during the recent visit to Kiel.

By MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—Realistic observers in Europe chancelleries don't share the average American's belief that the United States could remain aloof from a general war between totalitarian and democratic states.

Their reason for so thinking is: Japan's navy.

During recent weeks of crisis in Europe, the Japanese made it known that they stood by their so-called "anti-Comintern" pact with Germany and Italy, which was in effect, a declaration that Japan would go to war on Germany's side against England.

European diplomats, who are now busily engaged in trying to gauge what the future line-up in any new crisis would be, feel that Japan will stick by this "anti-Comintern" pact when the second World War makes its appearance. That would, perhaps, once more put her in opposition to England.

Even if Japan conquers all of China, her army will be needed to "pacify" the conquered areas. But her navy would still be employed elsewhere, because it is not necessary for the pacification of China.

In the last world war, when the fleets of France and Britain had all they could do to cope with the German navy in the Atlantic, the Mediterranean and the North Sea, Japan proved a valuable ally because its navy conveyed the troops which carried Australian and New Zealand troops to Europe.

Now in another major war, Britain will once more need the giant aid of her colonies. Once more, a goodly part of her navy will be engaged in the Atlantic and European waters, watching the European enemy fleets. If Japan really stands by Germany, her navy will attempt to block the sending of Australian and New Zealand troops. That alone would transfer part of the United States interest to the Pacific.

But more important is the possibility that Japan will ape what the Germans did in the last war. In those war years, on several occasions, the Germans made sudden secret dashes across the North Sea to bombard English towns, regardless of whether they were fortified or not. The whole idea was to terrify the people and to keep the British navy guessing. It is not beyond conception that the Japanese might sneak a squadron of swift ships across the Pacific to bombard west coast Canadian cities.

And that would present President Roosevelt, Congress and the United States with a grave problem. For earlier this year, the President made a speech in Canada in which he placed the protection of the Monroe Doctrine over our northern neighbor and promised that the United States would not allow any foreign power to harm Canada.

That being the case, what would happen, should Japan—fighting against England—begin bombardment of Canadian cities? If the Monroe Doctrine still has teeth in it, America would be at war in a very short time. At least, that is the prevailing falling in many official circles in European capitals.
